Institutional Effectiveness and Assessment Handbook

I. Introduction

The purpose of the College focused accreditation visit at Southwestern Oregon Community College (SWOCC) in April 2009, was to conduct a Focused Interim Evaluation of the institution's progress specifically regarding Recommendation 1 of the spring 2007 Regular Interim Evaluation Report:

1. It is recommended that the College identify and publish the expected learning outcomes for each of its degree and certificate programs. It is further recommended that the College develop measures to assess the effectiveness of each of its educational programs and utilize the resulting data to make judgments about program effectiveness, allocate resources, and make necessary modifications. It is recommended that through regular and systematic assessment, the College demonstrates that students who complete their programs have achieved these outcomes. Finally, it is recommended that the institution provide evidence that its assessment activities lead to the improvement of teaching and learning (Standard 2.B.2, 2.B.3).

The evaluation was intended to verify and clarify information contained in the March 2009, Southwestern Oregon Community College Focused Interim Accreditation Report. The College viewed the focused visit as an opportunity for discussion and improvement.

After the Evaluator's visit and submission of her written report to the Commission in spring 2009, and subsequent correspondence from the NWCCU President, Dr. Sandra Elman, in July 2009, the Commission's decision requested a progress report in fall 2010 to address Recommendation 1 of the Focused Interim Report.

Recommendation 1

The Evaluator recommends that the College demonstrate, through regular and systematic assessment, that students who complete its programs of study have achieved the expected outcomes. In addition, the College must show that assessment activities lead to the improvement of teaching and learning. (Standards 2.B.2 and 2.B.3)

II. Progress Report

During the spring 2009 Focused Interim Visit, the Accreditation Evaluator found evidence that SWOCC had identified and published expected learning outcomes for each of its degree and certificate programs. In addition, the Evaluator found assessment of learning outcomes and use of assessment results had been progressing on a variety of fronts since the 2007 visit. The Evaluator's report cited the following assessment activities in her report of April 24, 2009:

- General education learning outcomes in writing, mathematics and critical thinking were measured through benchmark scores established from the Collegiate Assessment of Academic Proficiency (CAAP) instrument. CAAP was selected in 2007 as the primary tool to support institutional-level general outcomes. Data was collected from the CAAP tests taken by each graduate to analyze the level of achievement of SWOCC students. CAAP results for 2008 showed improvement for the three areas measured.

- Faculty interviewed identified specific ways results had been used to improve teaching and learning. Assessment activities included final grades, capstone projects, skills demonstrations and simulations, and practice and certification exams. Rubrics were included on course syllabi. Nursing faculties decided to teach medical calculation each term and were reviewing if, by doing this, they were helping students improve math skills. Faculty stated setting CAAP baselines and reviewing results had encouraged them to reassess more effective ways to encourage and measure critical thinking. CAAP data was used to make changes to both the Fire Science and EMT program by purchasing and utilizing additional learning aids focused on the development of critical thinking.
- Using the Nichols Model, the College tied degree and certificate outcomes to Institutional Strategic Goals and had identified assessment criteria and tasks. Faculty expressed appreciation of the framework the model provided and the concrete way it required them to look at data to ensure they had enough information before making changes.
- Faculty interviewed were able to clearly identify how the assessment and planning software, TracDat, enabled them to link course and program outcomes to budget and to strategic planning and expressed excitement about the possibilities of being able to use program outcomes attainment to formulate and prioritize budgets and strategic directions.
- Faculty understood and had begun to use the results of assessment to improve teaching and learning. There was consensus among the faculty and agreement assessment activities were bringing about positive change across the campus.
- Faculty conveyed discussions were more thoughtful and they were engaged in dialogue about assessment.
- The administration had a clear collaborative vision of assessment at both the institutional and educational program level.
- The mechanisms were in place to clearly link results of assessment activities to resource allocation and improvement.
- The SWOCC Board of Education had requested, and received, new measures of institutional effectiveness linking directly to program outcomes assessment.

Since the focused evaluation visit in spring 2009, SWOCC has now completed a full cycle of assessment. In this progress report, we offer information and evidence showing College efforts toward addressing Evaluator Clary's Recommendation 1:

The Evaluator recommends that the College demonstrate, through regular and systematic assessment, that students who complete its programs of study have achieved the expected outcomes. In addition, the College must show that assessment activities lead to the improvement of teaching and learning. (Standards 2.B.2 and 2.B.3)

Three major achievements have been documented and all contribute to the foundation upon which institutional and program effectiveness are assessed and improved.

1. A culture of assessment and continuous improvement is cultivated and welcomed at the College.

2. Uniform and consistent assessment definitions, processes and tools were fine tuned and adopted, creating a framework for assessing institutional effectiveness, and for improving teaching and learning.
3. Data from assessment is used to inform decisions to improve teaching and learning and unit/institutional effectiveness.

Creating a culture of assessment and continuous improvement

Southwestern administrators, faculty and staff have continued to develop and foster a culture of assessment and continuous improvement since the Commission reviewed the Focused Visit Evaluation report in spring 2009. The College assessment and planning report of 2008 - 2010 Activities and Process Steps clearly shows the systematic ways in which processes were developed, implemented and strengthened in support of assessment, planning, budgeting and continuous improvement.

Desirous of increasing faculty and staff awareness of, and involvement in, program and institutional effectiveness processes, a change to the existing Faculty Senate sub-committee structure was proposed. This proposal incorporated a revision of the former Faculty Senate Budget and Planning Sub-Committee to include Assessment as a pilot component and as part of creation of the new Institutional Effectiveness Task Force (IEAT). The pilot Faculty Senate Sub-Committee was formed in the fall of 2009 and named Assessment, Planning and Budget (APB). Under this revision, committee member assignments were made and approved for the Institutional Effectiveness Task Force (IEAT), the Planning Council (PC) and the College Budget Committee (CBC) meetings to act as inter-committee liaisons. In the spring of 2010, the body of General Faculty approved the continuance of the APB Faculty Senate sub-committee pilot through 2011.

Uniform and consistent assessment definitions, processes and tools were fine tuned and adopted

Concurrent to the unit and program assessment activities, the newly formed Institutional Effectiveness and Assessment Taskforce (IEAT) initiated a plan of work and meeting schedule. The IEAT is comprised of representatives from a college wide range of academic and support units. The Taskforce established a Guidelines Handbook which contains the documented history and evolution of College assessment processes, describes the College processes for comprehensive program review of academic and administrative/educational support units, and outlines how units are to develop outcomes and enter their assessment plans into TracDat software.

With college-wide cross representation, IEAT provided a forum for the exchange of information about program review and assessment strategies among programs and administrative units. The activities of the committee are supported by the Institutional Researcher and the Office of Instruction and include:

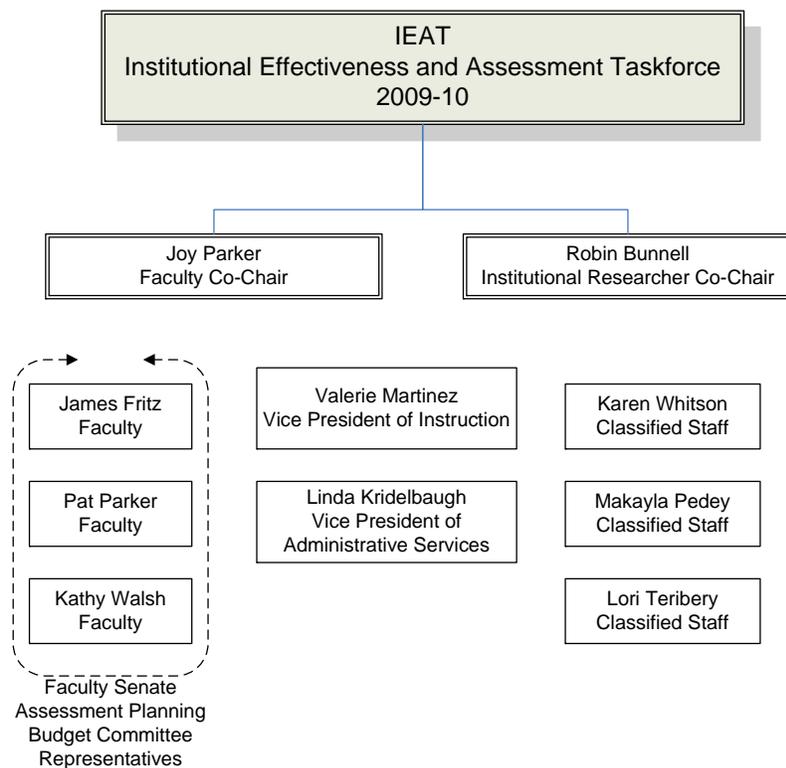

- Review/design Southwestern Oregon Community College institutional effectiveness processes and reports;
- Review/recommend revisions to indicators of institutional effectiveness;
- Review/design of content and format for department/program/discipline performance reports;
- Review/design program improvement plans;
- Guidance and support of the implementation of pilot department/program/discipline assessments; and
- Creation of the Institutional Effectiveness and Assessment Handbook. (Appendix C)

The IEAT, co-chaired by Institutional Researcher, Robin Bunnell, and SWOCC Writing Instructor, Joy Parker, developed the Guidelines Handbook through a year-long process which included input from faculty, classified staff, and management members. The Guidelines Handbook is divided into the following sections:

1. Introduction: History, Purpose and Overview
2. Institutional Effectiveness: Planning, Assessment, and Budgeting
3. Planning

4. Assessment
5. Budgeting
6. Appendices

The following illustration depicts the structure and membership of IEAT.

The taskforce is slated to become the Institutional Effectiveness and Assessment Oversight Committee upon completion, adoption and dissemination of the Guidelines Handbook and all associated institutional effectiveness and assessment processes in fall 2010.

Using assessment data to improve teaching and learning, unit and institutional effectiveness

At the beginning of the 2009-10 academic year, all administrative/educational support units and programs were required to review and update operational outcomes and program student learning outcomes. Accompanying this activity was a required review of the units' and/or programs' means of assessment and criteria for success. Instituting this activity allowed staff and faculty to examine the written operational outcomes and program student learning outcomes with fresh eyes and with additional understanding of the expectations for program assessment—improvement of teaching and learning.

Throughout the 2009-10 academic year, units and programs refined assessment measures, conducted assessment activities, gathered data and recorded assessment data in TracDat. The use of this tool for entry of all assessment and planning activities provides one source of information from which any administrator can access information. Once data was collected for each assessment activity, units and programs initiated the analysis and synthesis stage, drawing conclusions to determine how the results would be used.

A formal rotation schedule of program review was developed and adopted for all programs and administrative/educational support units. (Appendix B) High-level, standardized unit audit reports were generated from TracDat software to determine if unit assessment activity was in progress and on track according to these established timelines. From within the system, and via email, communication regarding the unit's assessment activities were sent by unit administrators to the individuals assigned with entry of assessment data.

Throughout the 2009-10 academic year, both instructional and administrative educational support units reviewed measures of assessment, assessment data, analyzed the data and created plans for using the results for improving teaching and learning. Evidence of how units used assessment results for improving teaching and learning is provided in this report through the reports generated from within the TracDat software. (Appendix A)

III. Summary

Southwestern Oregon Community College Board of Education, faculty, staff and administrators made a serious and concerted effort to address Recommendation 1 of the spring 2009 Focused Evaluation Report. The College, its President and Board of Education are fully committed to full implementation of all institutional effectiveness and assessment activities. As the culture of assessment becomes fully integrated, the institutional effectiveness model and processes will also undergo periodic evaluation and improvement.

Coincidental to the progress made toward addressing Recommendation 1 of the spring 2009 Focused Evaluation Report, the College took steps to review and re-write the College purpose in our Mission Statement, paving the way for identification of the core themes which comprise the essential elements of the mission. In addition, parameters for mission fulfillment have been outlined and a threshold for mission fulfillment was established. The College has been placed on the NWCCU New Standards Evaluation Schedule with Year One, Standard One Report due in spring 2011; and Comprehensive, All Standards, Report with a visit scheduled in spring 2012. The College's current model for assessing and improving institutional effectiveness forms the foundational element for future accreditation reporting and subsequent visits.#

07/01/2008 Outcome Status: Review Year Report		2008-09 Result Synthesis and Analysis: Bookstore is undergoing organizational changes and is using Porter 5 competition challenges to perform an analysis over the next year.	Review Year Report Only: Internal External Trends: Direct competition: The Bookstore sells many different types of products. Each has competition from other retailers. Official Southwestern apparel is not available from any other distributor; however, unauthorized dealers such as prepsportswear.com sell their version of Southwestern logo apparel. Students and staff can also choose to purchase apparel that is not logoed. Academic priced software is available on sites such as academic superstore and JourneyEd. Textbook sales have many competitors. Bookstores compete with student to student sales, large chain retailers, websites such as Amazon or half.com, and textbook rental websites. Customers: Southwestern Bookstore's target market is our students, the student's families, and alumni. The Bookstore targets this market. The Bookstore strives to carry items that appeal to the customers - sweatshirts and mugs for the family or alumni and software and electronics for students. Suppliers: The Bookstores main suppliers are publishers and wholesalers. The publisher provides bookstores with the retail price for the textbooks. Most bookstores do not price the books themselves; instead they follow the publisher's list price. The margin for textbooks is very small.

Outcomes	Means of Assessment & Criteria / Tasks	Results	Use of Results & Implementation Status
			This makes it difficult for bookstores to sell the textbooks for less than the list price. If the bookstores try to sell the books for more than the list price then they will have competition from other school bookstores selling at list. The used price of a book is also set for bookstores. The margin on used books purchased from a wholesaler is also very small. Bookstores purchase supplies and other merchandise from wholesalers in the industry. The margins on these goods are closer to normal retail standards. Most bookstores do not have enough buying power to purchase from really large wholesalers and suppliers where they would have larger margins. Potential entrants: Bookstores everywhere have seen many new forms of entrants into the market over the last 10 years. Students have access to e-books, book rentals, and internet marketplace purchases. Southwestern Bookstore could face competition from another bookstore opening up that is not owned by the college yet functions as such. This has happened at many large universities. I think the internet holds the greatest potential for new entrants to come into play. Substitute products: For textbooks the student can choose to purchase an e-book instead of the traditional physical copy. Students can also rent the book instead of purchasing it. When it comes to the supplies they are selling

Outcomes	Means of Assessment & Criteria / Tasks	Results	Use of Results & Implementation Status
			students can purchase other brands instead of the ones that Southwestern offers. As I mentioned before prepsportwear offers a knock-off version of some Southwestern apparel. If individuals want to purchase logo merchandise then they have no other substitution available. The academic software is only offered in certain formats with no substitutions to choose, students can purchase it other places but it will be the same software.

Introduction

Increasing demands for accountability has been one of the defining characteristics of postsecondary education in the 1990s. Whether at the federal level (Student Right-to-Know Act), state level (Oregon State Board of Education “Measure What You Treasure” for the community colleges), or locally (planning and budgeting, accreditation), assessing institutional effectiveness and educational offerings is an ongoing challenge.

This document serves as Southwestern Oregon Community College’s (Southwestern) continuing efforts in this area. The Institutional Effectiveness and Assessment Task Force, co-chaired by Institutional Researcher, Robin Bunnell, and Southwestern Writing Instructor, Joy Parker, developed the guidelines through a year-long process which included faculty, classified staff, and management members. The taskforce became the Institutional Effectiveness and Assessment Oversight Committee at the beginning of the academic year 2010-11.

It is intended that this document serve as The Southwestern Institutional Effectiveness, Planning and Assessment Handbook.

The Handbook is divided into the following sections:

1. Introduction: History, Purpose and Overview
2. Institutional Effectiveness: Planning, Assessment, and Budgeting
3. Planning
4. Assessment
5. Budgeting
6. Appendices

Sections of the handbook are electronically linked and keywords are linked to the glossary to easily jump to definitions and sections within the handbook. The links appear as a different color and are underlined.

Section I:

Introduction: History, Purpose and Overview

History

Now, more than at any other time in the history of community colleges exists a need for accountability. In order to meet and exceed calls for local, regional, state and national accountability fully developed institutional planning and effectiveness processes are required. Inextricable ties between planning, effectiveness, and resource allocation guide College leaders through good times and times of financial difficulty. Strong planning process and demonstration of institutional effectiveness contribute to an institution's ability to maintain public trust, compliance with regional accreditation standards, and its own definition of mission fulfillment. Southwestern has taken the steps necessary to develop planning and effectiveness processes which build a culture of evidence and the confidence necessary to fulfill its mission.

Southwestern is accredited by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (NWCCU), nationally recognized by the U.S. Department of Education and the Council for Higher Education (CHEA) as a regional authority on educational quality and institutional effectiveness of higher education institutions in the seven-state Northwest region of Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, and Washington. The NWCCU website states:

“Regional accreditation is a process of recognizing educational institutions for performance, integrity, and quality that entitles them to the confidence of the educational community and the public (http://www.nwccu.org/ Accreditation Overview). “Regional accreditation of postsecondary institutions is a voluntary, non-governmental, self-regulatory process of quality assurance and institutional improvement. It recognizes higher education institutions for performance, integrity, and quality to merit the confidence of the educational community and the public. Accreditation or preaccreditation by a postsecondary regional accrediting agency qualifies institutions and enrolled students for access to federal funds to support teaching, research, and student financial aid” (<http://www.nwccu.org/>).

The accreditation process occurs on a seven year cycle with visits in years 3, 5 and 7. The benefits of accreditation include:

- Financial Aid Opportunities – Federal (and often state) financial aid is only available to students who enroll at a college, university, or other institution of higher learning that has been accredited by the appropriate regional or special accrediting body.
- Workplace Success – Some employers prefer or require degrees/training from accredited institutions.
- Transfer of credit to other accredited institutions - student transfer between accredited colleges and universities throughout the nation is possible because of the reciprocal agreements between the six regional accrediting agencies.
- Quality Assurance - Regional accreditation assures the public, including parents, students and the business community, that the institution adheres to standards that are based on peer evaluation, regular self-evaluation and reports, and assessment of institutional effectiveness.

Southwestern also has received specialized accreditation or program approval recognition for Culinary Arts and Baking and Pastry- ACF, Early Childhood Education Program and Degree, EMT Basic, Intermediate and Paramedic, Nursing Program, and the Transitional Education program.

Southwestern has developed a vision, a clearly defined mission, core themes, and core values that are intended to guide the college through the planning, assessment, and budgeting processes. All efforts to assess our effectiveness must be based on these founding principles.

Vision

Southwestern Leads and Inspires Lifelong Learning

Mission

Southwestern Oregon Community College serves the educational and cultural needs of our students and communities by providing access to quality education in a professional and engaging environment which supports innovation, sustainability and lifelong enrichment. Learning experiences are characterized by excellent teaching, support for student achievement and the enhancement of social and economic opportunities.

Core Themes

According to NWCCU, the accrediting body for community colleges:

A core theme is a manifestation of a fundamental aspect of institutional mission with overarching objectives that guide planning for contributing programs and services, development of capacity, application of resources to accomplish those objectives, and assessment of achievements of those objectives. Collectively, the core themes represent the institution's interpretation of its mission and translation of that interpretation into practice.

(<http://www.nwccu.org/Standards%20Review/Pages/RevisedStandards.htm>)

It is expected by NWCCU that Southwestern:

identifies core themes that individually manifest essential elements of its mission and collectively encompass its mission. . . . establishes objectives for each of its core themes and identifies meaningful, assessable, and verifiable indicators of achievement that form the basis for evaluating accomplishment of the objectives of its core themes. (NWCCU, Standard 1.b.1, 1.b.2, 2010)

Southwestern developed the institutional core themes in response to the new accreditation standards adopted by NWCCU in January 2010. The core themes were identified during the academic year 2009-10 through a collaborative process that included faculty, staff and management. Four core themes (Appendix A) emerged from the appreciative inquiry process which began during the fall 2009 in-service sessions and during the resulting follow-up sessions.

- 1) Access
Access is the pathway to learning opportunities for students and the community through support services and diverse delivery methods.
- 2) Learning and Achievement
Student learning and student achievement are at the core of the College mission and given the highest priority by emphasizing quality teaching; quality learning; quality course and program design; retention; persistence; completion; graduation and/or transfer.
- 3) Innovation and Sustainability
Innovation and sustainability are interwoven to both seize opportunities for resource development and maintain continuous improvement for a strong infrastructure of employees, technologies, and facilities.
- 4) Community Engagement
Community engagement is the means to build strong partnerships and provides opportunities for the community to participate in diverse activities and events.

Core Values

The core values of an organization are those values we hold which form the foundation on which we perform work and conduct ourselves. In an ever-changing world, core values are constant. Core values are not descriptions of the work we do or the strategies we employ to accomplish our mission. The values underlie our work, how we interact with each other, and which strategies we employ to fulfill our mission. The core values are the basic elements of how we go about our work. They are the practices we use every day in everything we do.

Community – Build collegiality by providing a welcoming and supportive atmosphere with respect for diversity.

Learning – Filter every decision, activity, and function through the lens of learning.

Innovation – Empower creative, progressive thinking that results in a sustainable, positive change.

Professionalism – Present ourselves with honesty and integrity working together to achieve our goals.

Stewardship – Sustainably manage our environment and fiscal resources to support our staff, students, and community.

Purpose of Institutional Effectiveness and Related Processes:

- Facilitate student success and learning
- Serve as a catalyst for positive change
- Improve the quality of teaching and learning
- Improve the quality of student support services and operational services
- Ensure that students are receiving effective instruction and achieving the standards set by programs, disciplines and course offerings
- Improve programs, disciplines and course offerings, including assessment of needs related to staff, curriculum, equipment, facilities and other resources
- Inform administrative, board and other appropriate bodies' decisions with regard to the initiation, continuation, enhancement and/or elimination of programs, disciplines and course offerings
- Respond to external accountability demands, including accreditation
- Use data for decision making and allocation of resources
- Support the ongoing commitment to a culture of continuous improvement through appropriate planning and budgeting that are derived from the assessment processes

For Whom is this Handbook Intended?

This handbook is a guide to the different processes of planning and assessment with reference to budgeting. The handbook is designed to help new staff become familiar with the processes and to guide all staff as they complete the assessment processes as part of their unit. It is intended that staff will be able to refer to this handbook for common terms and definitions. Included in the handbook are the basic steps for end-users responsible for entering information into the TracDat system, software designed to meet the planning and assessment needs of Southwestern. TracDat electronically captures and stores all assessment-related processes and documents rather than having end-users create hardcopy documents or store supporting documentation on their own computers. The system provides uniform reporting across all departments and/or units. Each department and/or unit is responsible for entering and maintaining all information within the TracDat system (check with the associate dean/supervisor of the department/unit to confirm the end-user responsible for maintaining information in the system):

What Topics are Covered?

Institutional Effectiveness and Demonstrating Achievement

Institutional effectiveness is meant to illustrate whether the college is meeting its mission and core themes as well as achieving its goals as demonstrated by a comprehensive, integrated, participatory planning and assessment process that focuses on improvement in all aspects of college operations and educational outcomes.

Standard Four: Effectiveness and Improvement of the NWCCU standards outlines the expectations related to Institutional Effectiveness:

The institution collects data related to clearly-defined indicators of achievement, analyzes those data, and forms evidence-based judgments of achievements of core theme objectives. It regularly and systematically applies clearly-defined evaluation procedures to appraise the relationship of institutional planning, resources, capacity, and practices to the objectives of its core themes; and assesses the extent to which it accomplishes those objectives and achieves the goals or intended outcomes of its programs and services. It uses assessment results to effect improvement and disseminates its findings to its constituencies. (NWCCU, Standard Four, 2010).

Planning

Management leads the institution from where it is now to where it would like to be in the future. The planning process is conducted in collaboration among management, faculty and classified staff to formulate a plan that is designed to achieve institutional goals with the available resources. The planning process (1) identifies the goals to be achieved at the institutional level based upon information gathered at the unit level; (2) identifies annual priorities to achieve the goals at the institutional and the unit level; (3) includes decisions on allocating resources to pursue the goals and priorities, including capital and people; and (4) implements, directs, and monitors all the steps in their proper sequence. (Appendix B).

Assessment

Assessment is a continuous process of collecting, evaluating, and using information to determine if and how well performance matches learning or service outcomes. We gather evidence of student learning; discover the degree to which courses, programs, and administrative and educational support services accomplish intended outcomes; and probe the achievement of institutional goals, core themes and mission.

Budgeting

We establish a budget document of the planned level of expenditures based on projected revenues. The budgeting process is conducted in collaboration among management, faculty, and classified staff to formulate a detailed budget for all funds at the unit level.

TracDat

TracDat is a management software system designed to provide a repository for all assessment and planning documents as well as documenting the process. It is used to manage and document the following institutional effectiveness activities at Southwestern.

- Document Student Learning Outcomes \(SLO\) and results
- Document Administrative and Educational Support Unit Outcomes \(AESO\) and results
- Document General Education Outcomes \(GEO\) and results
- Document Degree and Certificate Outcomes and results
- Manage department and/or unit annual priorities and status updates
- Manage the institutional strategic plan goals and annual priorities including status updates
- Link reporting unit goals and SLO/AESO/GEO activities to the College goals
- Access reports
- Document Program Review and use of results for all planned improvements
- Provide departments and/or units an opportunity to request needed funds during the budget process

Section II

Institutional Effectiveness: Planning, Assessment, and Budgeting

As an accredited institution, Southwestern is committed to implementing a planning, assessment and effectiveness process which uses available resources and produces clear evidence of student learning and excellent learner support. The institution will guide and support staff in the systematic documentation of student learning and learner support. Southwestern also disseminates such documentation to both the college community and the community at large. The following diagram is meant to illustrate the flow of work and interactions of information from the Board of Education, through the institution and out to and back from the community. A detailed integrated view of the model is illustrated in Appendix C.

Institutional Effectiveness Model - Board and Community Diagram

Southwestern Oregon Community College Institutional Effectiveness

Characteristics of Institutional Effectiveness

- Collaborative (with participation and support from the board, administration, faculty, support staff, students and community)
- Ongoing (a dynamic process that is expected to evolve over time – continuous improvement)
- Impartial
- Efficient
- Data driven
- Meaningful (the value of the process is evident to the campus community)
- Accountable (those involved will hold each other accountable for following the process, making decisions and following through)
- Communicated (assessment results will be shared before any decisions, and outcomes will be communicated to stakeholders)

The College's institutional effectiveness process is an on-going, institution wide process of planning and assessment for the purpose of continuous improvement and to provide evidence that the College is effectively achieving its mission. The institutional effectiveness process at Southwestern Oregon Community College is an on-going planning—implementing—assessing cycle that is applied at every level of the College. It provides the basis for the administration to allocate resources, adapt to changes in the environment, and coordinate activities leading to fulfillment of the College mission.

Institutional Effectiveness is demonstrated through mission fulfillment. Southwestern demonstrates achievement of mission fulfillment by successfully meeting the objectives of our core themes. Objective performance is measured by setting annual target levels for each core theme indicator of achievement. Core themes are mapped to individual indicators of achievement and reviewed each year for applicability, annual target benchmarks, and consideration of new or deletion of indicators. Indicators of Achievement were developed to identify the individual success indicators and to set target benchmarks for which the institutional strives to annually achieve. (Appendix D)

Indicators of Achievement

Indicators identified by the institution to illustrate achievement of the mission at the institutional level and reported to the Board of Education. Southwestern is committed to a practice of evaluating and assessing the effectiveness of the College. Accreditation and State standards also require the College to have in place practices to evaluate and assess the effectiveness of all programs and the administrative operations. Indicators of Achievement are one way the College demonstrates to the Accreditation agency, the State, the Board, the students, the Community and the staff institutional effectiveness.

Southwestern reported internal and external indicators supporting the College Mission through Measures of Institutional Effectiveness during the years 1994 through 2006. From January 2007 to November 2008, Southwestern and the State of Oregon individually reviewed core indicators to measure effectiveness. As a result of the Measure What You Treasure report issued by the Oregon Community Colleges and Workforce Development Commissioner Cam Preus and the alignment of existing College measures with the new State indicators and accreditation requirements, a new set of measures was proposed for consideration by the Board of Education beginning April 2009. The measures have served the college and are once again undergoing revision to meet the new accreditation standards and will be labeled Indicators of Achievement (Appendix D).

TracDat Software Structure

The Nichols model (Appendix F) was adopted and initial templates developed for use by faculty and staff to complete the development of outcomes, means of assessment and criteria for success by all instructional and administrative/educational support units and the information was then entered into the TracDat software providing ease of tracking, centralization of data, and templates for reporting results and use of results. All future entries will be made directly into the software system. These will be easily completed through assignments that allow staff to respond to an email link and directly add data to templates which automatically update the data system. TracDat quick-entry steps are included in each section of the handbook. Further instructions and templates are located in Appendix E.

Planning, Assessment and Budgeting

Planning, assessment and budgeting are all processes that are interrelated and occur on a cyclical basis. Planning processes allow the college to create a roadmap to guide the staff to fulfill the mission and meet the strategic plan goals. The assessment processes, including the reporting of achievements, allow the college to determine the effectiveness of the operations and student learning outcomes then communicate these to the public. The assessment results are used to plan for the future and to request budget funds. All of the budget processes are designed to ensure that the appropriate level of projected expenditures and revenues are planned for the next academic year and that prioritized budget requests from the planning and assessment processes have been included.

Planning, Assessment and Budgeting Processes Cycle

Planning, Assessment and Budgeting Timeline

Section III Planning Processes

Planning

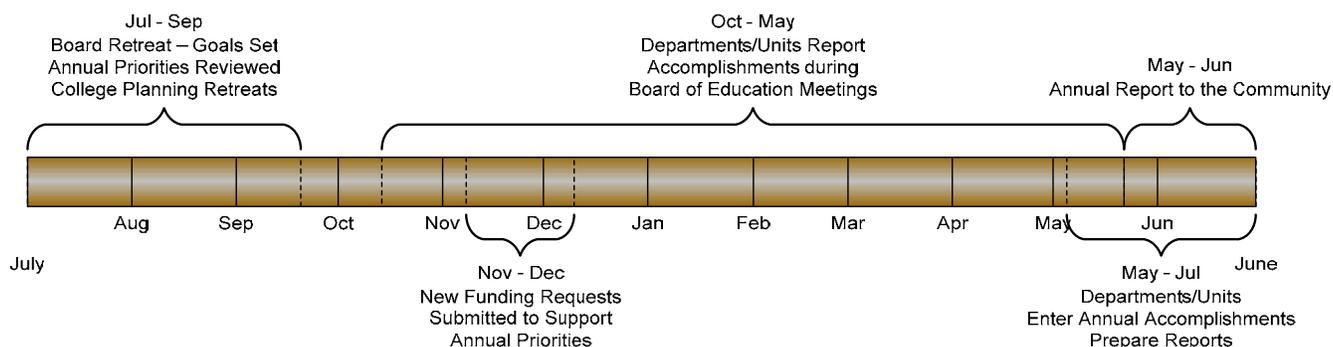

Planning is the collaborative process by which the college develops long-term strategic plan goals and annual priorities. The strategic plan goals are designed to serve the college for at least a seven-year period which coincides with the accreditation review cycle.

Other planning processes include the Master Facility Plan, the Technology Plan, the Academic Plan, and the Emergency Preparedness plan. Each of the plans is developed through a similar process and is led by a campus representative appointed by the Executive Team.

Planning Steps and Timeline

Planning begins with the annual Board of Education Retreat held in July of each year. The Board of Education meets to identify annual Board Goals and to review the Southwestern Strategic Plan. The Board Goals and comments on the strategic plan are communicated to the campus during the September Board of Education meeting. Unit and/or department planning along with reporting unit planning occur during fall term for the next year. This process allows for the emergence of annual plan priorities from all units and/or departments as a result of the various meetings held during the term. Annual priorities are identified from annual planning meetings and from the assessment process (reporting of results and use of results). Requests for budget funds or reallocation of resources are tied to the annual priorities previously identified in the planning and assessment processes. The budget process directs the allocation of funds as prioritized in order to support and implement continuous improvement efforts and fulfill the mission of the College.

Institutional Planning Timeline

- During the fall term, the institution reviews the Board of Education goals and holds meetings to identify both unit and department goals and to set annual priorities for the next year with a rolling three-year annual priority list.
- The compilation of all of the goals goes into a document that identifies the main goals of the current strategic plan (updated at least every 7 years).
- Each year, every department identifies its annual priorities to align with the strategic plan goals.
- Quarterly, or even more frequently, these priorities are entered into the TracDat system along with ongoing status updates.
- Each quarter, reporting units enter a status update for priorities derived from their unit reports. These reports are used by the Executive Team for quarterly Board of Education Updates to the Strategic Plan.
- Each unit and/or department submits an annual report to the reporting unit.
- Each reporting unit synthesizes all of its achievements and produces a reporting-unit annual-priorities status-update report.
- This report is then used to create the Annual Report to the Community.

Assessment

Assessment is a means of evaluation and analysis designed to demonstrate how well the College and units/departments have met the outcomes identified for student learning and administrative/educational support services. All units/departments are expected to conduct a comprehensive program review once every three years beginning with the academic year 2010-11. Unit/department reports are submitted to the reporting unit staff by November 15th following the review year. Example: 2010-11 Program Review Report is submitted by November 15, 2011.

Institutional Assessment Process Timeline

For assessment to be truly effective, it must be meaningful, reflective, and self-regulated. The purpose of assessment is to use the results, positive or negative, to stimulate meaningful dialogue about how instruction and services can be modified to engage students in the learning process and to sustain institutional effectiveness. Institutional effectiveness reflects how well the college is meeting its mission and goals.

Assessment Plan

An assessment plan is the combination of outcomes, means of assessment and criteria for success that have been identified for every unit/department on campus.

Assessment Plan Evaluation Requirements

Every unit/department is required to evaluate how well the outcomes have been met on an annual basis. Results are entered on an annual basis. A Program Review is conducted at least every three years and a comprehensive report of program/operational effectiveness is produced. Units/departments are expected to hold an annual meeting to discuss the active outcomes (the information to be discussed at the meeting is to be distributed for review by all members of the unit at least one week prior to the meeting in order to facilitate quality discussions at the meeting). It is desirable to have the outcomes be reviewed on an annual basis and any new outcomes be added to the TracDat system. At the same time, users should inactivate any outcomes in TracDat that are no longer applicable. Before deactivating any outcomes, the user must be sure results and use of results for those outcomes have been reported in a comprehensive review year report. In this way, the history of institutional decisions will be preserved.

What is Program Review?

Program review has four parts:

- 1) A comprehensive review of the unit outcomes;
- 2) The synthesis and analysis of the results of each outcome;
- 3) Review of the internal and external trends that impact the unit; and
- 4) The use of results for each outcome.

The use of results is the planned improvements, changes, and any other modifications to programs and/or services. The comprehensive review includes quantitative and qualitative data as well as a review of operational policies and procedures. (Eight Steps, Appendix H and Appendix I)

Program review occurs every three years and the end product is a report compilation of three years' of data, which illustrates the level achieved by outcome and the effectiveness of the unit/department (program, degree, certificate, or administrative/educational support service provided to students) based on the synthesis and analysis of data showing internal and external trends.

What are Outcomes?

They are culminating activities, products, or performances that can be measured.

What are Administrative or Educational Support Outcomes (AESO)?

They are outcomes related to administrative or educational support services provided to students or potential students. Answers the question: "What will the students GAIN or EXPECT from the experience/service provided?"

Administrative outcomes are a means of evaluating the services provided by administrative units. They are created and assessed by the staff and managers of the unit. They inform planning and lead to goals of improved support services. They are expressed as statements of what clients experience, receive or understand as a result of a given service. All outcomes should be tied to reporting unit goals.

Educational Support outcomes are a means of evaluating the services provided by educational support units. They are created and assessed by the staff and managers of the unit. They inform planning and lead to goals of improved support services. They are expressed as statements of what clients experience, receive or understand as a result of a given service. All outcomes should be tied to reporting unit goals.

What are Student Learning Outcomes (SLO)?

Student learning outcomes are related to the instruction provided to students at the course or program level. Answers the question, "What will the student be able to DO with what is learned in a course and/or program?"

Student learning outcomes are a means of evaluating student learning. They are created and assessed by the faculty, department, or academic program. They inform planning and lead to goals of improved learning. SLOs are expressed in statements of what students will be able to think, know, do, or feel because of a given educational experience. SLOs should be tied to reporting unit goals.

What are General Education Student Learning Outcomes (GESLO)?

General education student learning outcomes are the knowledge, skill, attitudes and abilities every student should possess after graduating with a certificate or degree from Southwestern Oregon Community College. Students will be able to demonstrate achievement of these outcomes as well as the specific curriculum outcomes for their academic or technical area of study. Answers the question, “What will the student be able to DO with what is learned in a program?”

What are Program Outcomes?

Program outcomes are all identified Student Learning Outcomes specific to the program, a culminating activity, product, or performance that can be measured. Answers the question, “What will the student be able to DO with what is learned in the program?”

How do I develop an outcome?

An outcome is a result of an action – use verbs. Examples: Refer to Appendix F and Appendix G (Nichols model examples and Bloom’s Taxonomy).

Getting started is the hardest part; remember that you have been doing a portion of this all along. The Eight-Step Process outlined below provides a clear and tangible way to articulate your efforts. The intention of the process is to provide a step-by-step layout of how to develop SLOs and AESOs, how to assess them, what to do with the data, and how to use the findings. It also explains how to document your efforts with the model that is used by the campus. By establishing and maintaining a documentation process, it is easier for you and your department/unit to see what work has been done, how it went, and what actions need to be taken to meet the goals and needs of your department.

Developing and assessing SLOs and AESOs is a process, and the following steps are intended to serve as a set of guidelines. It is imperative to look at the culture within your department/unit or program to determine how this process will best be implemented.

	TracDat - Refer to Appendix E
8. Continuous Cycle – see Appendix J	Repeat the process while continuing to incorporate your SLO/AESO process into your Electronic Planning for Institutional Effectiveness

How do I Assess Outcomes?

Once the assessment plan has been completed and data collected (Steps 1 – 4 listed above) it is time to start assessing the outcomes. By following the guidelines for Steps 5 through 8 listed below and in Appendix J, the assessment process is completed and the continual improvement cycle begins. Program review and assessment is an ongoing process cycling through Steps 1 – 8 at least once every three years.

Step 5: Data Analysis - Aggregate and analyze the data.

After the assessment has been conducted, analyze and summarize the data. Refer to your assessment plan and examine the actual student performance or client behavior as you think about what you had expected to happen. How do they compare? Enter the results in TracDat—you may use the template located in Appendix E as a guide or to record initial information.

Step 6: Closing the Loop - Determine ways to use the data to make applicable revisions to the curriculum, departmental services and processes, and the outcomes. The planned activities are listed as the annual priorities for the unit for the associated years – the items that will be done or plan to do.

Schedule and conduct another meeting with your faculty/staff to discuss the assessment results and the data summary. This step is the most vital since this is the time when you and your team can examine the findings, see areas for growth or opportunity, and brainstorm ideas and methods to address those areas. The purpose of this meeting is to stimulate meaningful dialogue and initiate change.

Enter the information within TracDat—you may use the template located in Appendix E as a guide or to record initial information. Report specific use of results: what will be done next year or in the next three years as a result of the synthesis and analysis, what improvements will be made, what changes are expected to be implemented. Enter planned activities in TracDat as the annual priority for the associated year. Explain briefly how analysis of the data led to the changes.

Are new resources needed? If so, enter a request for budget funds within TracDat, identifying the account number and the amount needed. You may want to use the template located in Appendix E to list all resources needed. Resources requested by department/unit faculty and staff are the foundation of plan implementations, which lead toward the achievement of identified annual priorities and changes to the curriculum or services. Resources may include budget, facilities, staffing, research support, training, and marketing.

Step 7: Documentation – Always attach documentation within the TracDat system as evidence to support the analysis of the data. Attach meeting minutes, aggregate scores, and other examples that support the results and provide evidence. (Appendix E)

Step 8: Continuous Cycle - Repeat the process continuously at least once every three years, focusing on various SLOs/AESOs. It is recommended Steps 5 – 8 be repeated on a yearly basis to capture data and enter yearly results.

The process of self-reflection and assessment must remain a continuous process in order to bring about meaningful change. Assessment enables each department to evaluate its current and future goals, its current and future needs, and its current strategies to serve its students and clients. Continuous₇₉ improvement builds on existing efforts to improve student performance and optimize student/client experiences. Thus, it is imperative to continue analytical discussions and to revise assessment efforts as necessary in order to ensure that student and client needs are being met.

Section V Budgeting Processes

Budgeting

Budgeting is the collaborative process by which the college establishes a planned level of projected revenues and expenditures at the unit level for all funds.

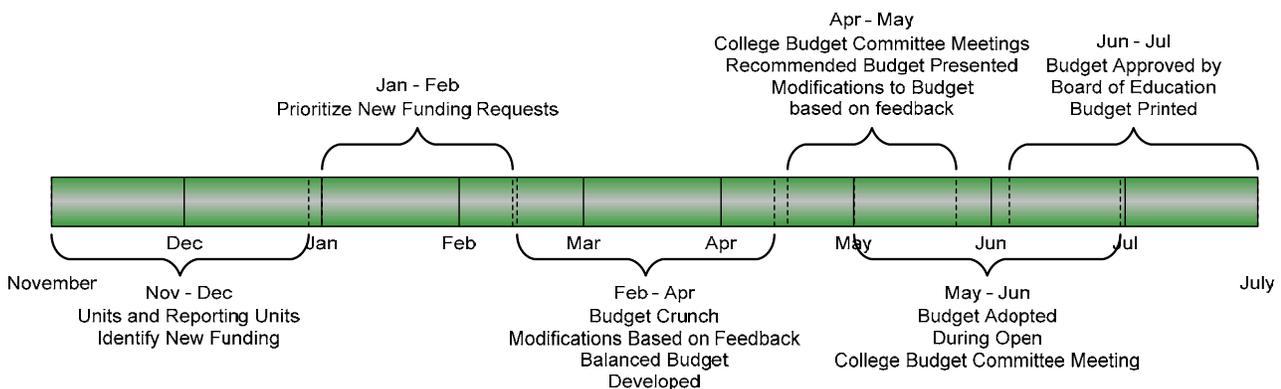

Budgeting Steps and Timeline

The process for developing the college budget can be grouped into the following four areas: (a) prepare the recommended budget, (b) approve the budget, (c) citizen involvement and public exposure, and (d) adopt the budget. Staff members request funds to be included in the budget as a result of the assessment and planning processes conducted by all departments/unit. Each department and/or unit submits a prioritized list to the reporting unit staff responsible for budget preparation.

Budget preparation begins with revenue forecasting and determining known expenditures and obligations. The next step is to review the unit level requests for funds and then prioritize the lists by reporting unit level (Vice President, Executive Director, Director, Dean, Associate Dean). The lists are then submitted to the Executive Team for review and inclusion in the initial crunch (comparison of projected revenues to requested expenditures) of the budget. Campus meetings are held for input and to consider other requests not submitted on the prioritized lists.

The goal is to prepare the budget while adhering to the strategic plan under the constraint of the financial situation. The Faculty Senate Assessment, Planning, and Budgeting Committee participate in discussions held in the Internal Budget Advisory Committee (IBAC). The proposed budget crunching continues until the budget is balanced (revenues equal expenditures); this budget becomes the Recommended Budget to be submitted to the College Budget Committee (composed of seven college district citizens and seven Board members). The Recommended Budget is presented in a public meeting and undergoes a full review by the Committee with public comment available. Modifications may be made to the budget based on feedback received during the public meeting(s). It is at this time that the Board of Education adopts the approved budget during a Board of Education meeting and the Adopted Budget becomes the Approved Budget for the fiscal year.

Institutional Budgeting Timeline

- During late fall term, based on the assessment and planning processes, the institution reviews all requests for funds that were entered in the TracDat system.
- Requests are prioritized by each department/unit and submitted to reporting unit staff.
- Reporting unit staff members hold meetings with all associated departments/units and finalize budget priorities. The budget priorities are submitted to the appropriate Executive Team member.
- Initial crunch of the budget occurs – projected revenues and expenditures are put in system for gap analysis.
- Meetings held on campus until the gap is closed; then the recommended budget book is assembled.
- The Recommended Budget is presented to the College Budget Committee for approval.
- The next step is to present the Approved Budget to the Board of Education for adoption.

Outcomes and Assessment Tab and Links

Outcomes | Means of Assessment | Related Annual Priorities/RU Goals

The Outcomes and Assessment Tab is where General Student Learning Outcomes, Administrative and Educational Support Outcomes are entered. This is also where Degree and Certificate Outcomes are entered as well as outcomes for related instruction, discipline areas, and foundational instruction. The outcomes are identified by each unit/department through staff meetings - Step 1 of developing and assessing outcomes. Formalizing the outcome and entering into TracDat is Step 2 of developing and assessing outcomes. The assessment plan is the combination of outcomes, means of assessment, and criteria for success.

Adding a New Outcome: Click on the link

Use this screen to add a new outcome as well as annual plan reports and review year reports.

Designing SLOs for programs and AESO for units requires the participation of all departmental faculty and/or staff. Ideally, the design begins with a series of conversations, usually in small groups.

Faculty refers to the learning goals for students and identifies knowledge and performance values in the discipline as a way to begin the process. These conversations should consider both affective and cognitive learning domains.

TracDat Quick Entry Steps – Adding a New Outcome (Step 2)

6)	Click on yellow tab at bottom of the screen
7)	Outcome Name: Type in an abbreviated name to identify the outcome
8)	Outcome: Type in the full outcome description
9)	Outcome Types: Select the type of outcome – learning for instructional / operational for other units
10)	Outcome Status: Select the status of the outcome – currently being assessed for all new outcomes
11)	Start Date: Type date outcome became effective
12)	End Date: Leave blank and only change once the outcome has been completed or becomes inactive
13)	Always click the yellow Save Changes button when done

Note: For annual priorities the outcome is the annual strategic plan summary. This has already been added to the list of outcomes for each unit.

Adding a New Means of Assessment: Outcomes | Means of Assessment | Related Annual Priorities/RU Goals
Click on the link

Step 3 of developing and assessing outcomes: You may add as many different Assessment Methods as you wish.

The Means of Assessment is the method of determining whether the learning or performance outcome has been achieved. It is the systematic collection of data and information focused on student learning, and other unit outcomes. The assessment of student learning outcomes is integral to the SLO process. It is a department-controlled task. Step 4 of the process is to administer the identified assessments.

The Means of Assessment should meet the following criteria:

- identify specific means of assessment (survey, test, etc.) for the outcome
- indicate consideration of previous data, if available
- establish minimum score for success at achieving outcome
- give number (% , fraction, actual number) of students or clients who are expected to meet the minimum score
- establish the minimum sub-score in given area(s) of interest (optional)
- specify when actual assessment occurs and by whom it is administered
- identify evaluator(s)
- specify evaluation process

Criteria for Success guidelines:

- establishes minimum expected score for success at achieving outcome
- quantifies (% , fraction or actual) number of students who are expected to meet the minimum score
- indicates consideration of alternate data (previous SLO assessment effort(s), external reports), if available (optional)
- establish the minimum score for any subcategories within the outcome, if applicable

TracDat Quick Entry Steps – Adding a Means of Assessment (Step 3)

1)	Click on yellow tab at bottom of the screen to add a new assessment method
2)	Assessment Method Category: Select the assessment tool from the drop down menu (not used for the annual strategic plan)
3)	Assessment Method: Type in-detail the method of the assessment (standard wording used for the annual strategic plan)
4)	Criterion: Type in the criteria for success (not used for the annual strategic plan)
5)	Timeline: Indicate yearly or other timeframe to be used (not used for the annual strategic plan)
6)	Active: Make sure this box is checked for all active means of assessments
7)	Always click the yellow Save Changes button when done

Note: For annual priorities the means of assessment is the yearly strategic plan. The first year has already been added to the list of outcomes for each unit. In future years, copy the means of assessment and change the year.

Sample Means of Assessment and Criteria for Success

How do we measure outcomes? Tools and/or instruments are used as a means of assessment (assessment methods vary) and criteria for success. Several tools are available for measuring outcomes. The most common are provided in the list below, for more ideas please contact Institutional Research.

Student Learning – Direct Assessment Methods	Student Learning – Indirect Assessment Methods	Services – Assessment Methods
• Locally developed tests or standardized Tests	• Exit interviews of students	• Student self-evaluations
• Faculty-created rubrics	• Student, employer and alumni surveys	• Point-of-service surveys
• Essays	• Graduation and transfer rates	• Focus Groups
• Blind-scored projects	• Job placement data	• Graduation Surveys
• Professional exams	• Satisfaction surveys	• ACT or CCSSE
• Capstone experience or course	• Observing and recording students’ Behaviors	• Counting the volume/degree of service, direct method
• Juried review of projects, exhibitions and Performances	• Self-report measures assessing students’ perceptions of what they’ve learned	• Observations (number of participants, number of inquiries, reaction of participants, etc.)
• Portfolio assessment	• CCSSE or CAAP	• Satisfaction surveys – attitudinal Assessment
• Certification & placement exams.	• Research projects	• External Validation – Audits, Inspections, etc.

This list displays a sample of methods, instruments and tools available to faculty and staff and is meant to stimulate ideas for other methods

Example Means of Assessment and Criteria for Success

Customer Satisfaction: Customer satisfaction is equal to or higher than the previous year.

- Quality: Work is completed with a percentage of errors, numbers or dollars better than or equal to the previous year
- Quantity: The percentage of requests fulfilled or numbers served is equal to or better than the previous year
- Efficiency: Average time for a response
- Music: 75% of students will perform all of the selected 6 (of the 12) major scales correctly in a maximum of two attempts. The scales will be evaluated by at least two full-time faculty using a checklist as a pass or fail. The performance will be assessed at the end of the spring and fall 2006 semesters in the normal performance evaluation process for the classes.
- ESL: By the end of fall 2006, 60% of Level 5 ESL students reporting orally will receive a passing score of 12 or higher (out of 18) on an ESL department oral rubric for Level 5 as measured by their classroom instructors.
- Speech: 70% of the students completing Speech 1A will have an average of 2 on a three-point scale rubric evaluating eye contact, organization, body control, and volume. The rubric will be used on speech delivery for a speech given in the last fourth of the semester in spring '07. The speech will be judged by designated faculty and the data will be evaluated by the dept. SLO committee.
- Fire Technology: The Fire Technology Program will administer and evaluate the standardized State Fire Marshall Firefighter I certification during the 15th week of the spring and fall semesters. Evaluations will be based upon standards set by The Office of the State Fire Marshall and The California Fire Service Training and Education System.
- Information Technology: System Availability and Uptime – the student information system will be available 99% of the time during normal business hours (7:30 – 4:30 Monday – Friday) as measured in academic year 2005-06 by the system administrators collecting system availability statistics. Evaluation will occur at the end of the academic year, June 30, 2006.
- Learning Assistance Center: 75% of students will complete the entire survey on preferences for the Skills Lab environment. 70% of the student will mark 'a' on Question 1 to show the satisfaction with the current space. 40% will mark 'a' on Question 2 to show satisfaction with the conditions. The four question survey will be administered by the front counter personnel on the sixth week of spring 2007 semester as they check into lab. Skills Lab personnel will tabulate and average the responses.
- Increase enrollment of non-traditional and part-time students by 3%
- Increase Career Pathway enrollments by 3%
- Increase retention of students by 3%
- Adopt one new program
- Improve student ratings of instructors by 5%
- Improve student satisfaction of services by 10%
- Increase in-service activities for all employee groups
- Increase student academic achievement in "X" course by 5%

Results Tab and Use of Results

After collecting the data from the assessments, Step 4 of the process, enter the results into the TracDat system using the Add a Result feature. This will display a screen that includes textboxes for synthesis and analysis of the data and fulfills Step 5 of assessing the outcomes.

Results = a succinct statement that states what criteria level was achieved; this is not a paragraph or even a few sentences as this is designed to illustrate the level achieved.

Example: Criteria = 95% of students will achieve an average score of 70% on XYZ
 Results = 100% of student achieved an average score of 80% on XYZ

Synthesis and Analysis is the area to enter the details associated with the results.

Relate Documents - Departments and units should support the conditions above with quantifiable data, conduct appropriate analyses, and make supportable conclusions. Data may be available from IR, check to confirm common data set information that is available for your department. You may also report on your own internally-generated data like the results from previous assessment efforts, budget reports, or advisory council minutes.

TracDat Quick Entry Steps – Results Tab (Step 5)
1)	Select the area for unit results (or the annual strategic plan year for status updates) (or select the courses to enter for course results located under the selection area tab)
2)	Click on Add a Result yellow tab near the bottom of the screen
3)	When the new screen appears, click on select for which SLO/AUO/SA the Summary of Data applies to.

11)	Attach supporting documentation – this is the evidence of the assessments and supports the analysis
12)	Always click the Save Changes button when you are done.

If there are documents related to an AESO/SLO/Annual Priority(i.e. test examples, Excel files with data results, meeting minutes)—they can be uploaded to TracDat and associated with a particular outcome via the results and use of results screens. Documents may also be uploaded directly to the system using the Documents tab and then selected from the results and use of results screen.

Developing and Assessing Outcomes

The following are some guiding questions to help in the development of SLOs and AESOs:

Think about a course completer or program graduate. What kind of course/program experience would allow for the greatest student success?

As a result of this course/program:

- What should this student know or understand?
- What will this student be able to do?
- What kind of skills or values will this student possess?

Think about a student or potential student who will receive a certain service. What kind of service experience would allow for the greatest satisfaction?

As a result of this service:

- How should this student act?
- What kind of attitude should this student possess?
- What will the student gain?

When considering the questions above, think about how you will know whether or not your students or clients have performed as you had intended for them to perform. What will the students or clients do to provide evidence that they have successfully met your expectations?

Once the outcomes have been developed, create the assessment plan (means of assessment and criteria for success) and include the following:

- What means of assessment will you employ?
 - Choices include course-embedded assessments, portfolios, surveys, and tests
- How do you expect your students/clients to fare?
 - Establish a minimum score for success and indicate the number (% , fraction, actual number) of students/clients whom you expect to meet the minimum score
- Whom will you assess?
 - Consider the course(s), class section, activity, workshop, term
- How will you collect your evidence?
- When will you collect your evidence?
- Who will be responsible for the administration of the assessment?
- Who will be responsible for the evaluation of the data collected?
- If you have conducted this assessment in the past, do you have any previous data to use as a marker for comparison?
- How would you plan to use the results?

Remember that you don't have to measure everything about every student during every course in every term or about every client for every service! Be selective and measure only those areas in which you are most interested and/or those areas that are most relevant to meeting current or future student/client needs.

Appendix I

Identification of Institutional General Student Learning Outcomes

General Student Learning Outcomes:

The purpose of the entire general education assessment is to evaluate how our institution and its curriculum are equipping our students with the basic general education skills – and then, as a result of the evaluation, to adjust the curriculum, if necessary, to assure that these outcomes are being adequately addressed. So, the assessment is formative rather than summative.

Several principles underlie the process. First, the general education learning outcomes are the responsibility of the faculty as a whole, not merely the responsibility of isolated departments. Next, the process was designed to be minimally intrusive for faculty. Also, it is important to note that neither names of students nor names of faculty are attached to any of the work when it is evaluated, and as a result, no names are attached to the data as it is analyzed and reported.

GENERAL EDUCATION STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES are the knowledge, skill, attitudes, and abilities every student should possess after graduating with a certificate or degree from Southwestern Oregon Community College. Students will be able to demonstrate achievement of these outcomes as well as the specific curriculum outcomes for their academic or technical area of study.

- Communication: Students completing a degree will be able to demonstrate effective knowledge, skills and attitudes in reading, writing, speaking, and listening, and presentation of self and information.
- Computation: Students completing a degree will be able to demonstrate effective knowledge, skills and attitudes in technology skills, computer proficiency, math proficiency, decision analysis (synthesis & evaluation), understanding of and ability to apply mathematical concepts and reasoning, analyzing and using numerical data.
- Creative, Critical & Analytical Thinking: Students completing a degree will be able to demonstrate effective knowledge, skills and attitudes using curiosity, learning strategies, information gathering, analysis, synthesis, evaluation, creativity, research, and problem solving.
- Community/Global Consciousness & Responsibility: Students completing a degree will be able to demonstrate effective knowledge, skills and attitudes involving respect, citizenship, cultural awareness, interpersonal skills, ethics, lifelong learning, community service, self-esteem, integrity and empathy.
- Discipline Content: Students completing a degree will be able to demonstrate effective skills and attitudes that are specific to a discipline or career.

Approved by SOCC Faculty Senate – January 28, 2005

Modified from the League for Innovation, www.league.org

Academic leaders, in concert with Faculty Senate and Student Services Leaders, determined, in 2007 that the Collegiate Assessment of Academic Proficiency test (CAAP) would become the global assessment tool for the general education student learning outcomes. The assessment is administered every three years (previously done annually through 2009), data is collected from the results of the assessments and the data is compiled in preparation for analysis, synthesis and use of results to improve teaching and learning.

Appendix J

Assessment Steps 5 to 8: Evaluation of Assessments and Outcomes

Step 5: Data Analysis - Aggregate and analyze the data.

After the assessment has been conducted, analyze and summarize the data. Refer to your assessment plan and examine the actual student performance or client behavior with what you had expected. How do they compare?

Some questions to consider when studying the data:

- What skills (or portions of skills) did students universally understand?
- What were the most common errors that students made?
- What did the students not grasp at all?
- For which parts of the service did clients express the greatest satisfaction?
- What were some of their recommendations?
- Are there other findings that you did not expect?
- What are you most surprised by?
- Were there any trends, patterns or themes that emerged from the data?

Some guidelines to keep in mind after documenting the data:

- Does your summary of the data clearly address the means of assessment and criteria for success stated in the assessment plan?
- Have you reported the actual results for the expected level of success (include %, fraction, actual number, etc.)?
- Have you highlighted any key findings?
- When you have prepared your summary of data, did you enter it into TracDat. (Appendix E)
- Did you attach any relevant documents such as spreadsheets or findings. (Appendix E)

Examples: Data Analysis and Summary

Welding: From fall 2006 and spring 2007:

These following scores reflect the percentage of students passing each subcategory of the practical exam:

Welder Selection	100%
Welder Set up	90%
Metal Preparation	100%
Rod Selection	82%
Speed of Travel	50%
Rod Angle	50%

Conclusion: Students require additional instruction in learning rod selection, and the manipulative skills of rod angle and speed of travel to meet the department's outcomes.

Step 6: Closing the Loop

Determine ways to use the data and make applicable revisions to the curriculum, departmental processes, and the outcomes.

Schedule and conduct another meeting with your faculty/staff to discuss the assessment results and the data summary. This step is the most vital since this is the time when you and your team can examine the findings, see areas for growth or opportunity, and brainstorm ideas and methods to address those areas. The purpose of this meeting is to stimulate meaningful discussion and initiate change.

Guiding questions could include the following:

- Were you satisfied with the student performance or client response?
- Are changes or improvements necessary?
- Based on the data analysis and summary, how would you modify the teaching/service to better address the student/client needs?
- SLOs: What should be done to improve student learning?
- What elements of the teaching and learning process should be added, deleted or modified to increase student success?
- AESOs: What do you need in order to improve student/client experiences?

Evaluate the assessment plan.

- What did you think of this SLO/AESO?
- Does it need to be revised?
- Does the criteria for success need to be changed?
- Should this outcome be assessed again?

Once adequate discussion has taken place, determine the plan of action and make necessary revisions or changes.

Examples: Closing the Loop

Welding: As a result of the low scores in the two subcategories involving manipulative skills, the Welding department began a peer tutoring program to assist welders with their manipulative skills. As a result of the low scores in subcategory 4, direct instruction on welding rod selection has increased by 3 hours in both WELD 40 and WELD 51.

Step 7: Documentation –

When documenting your use of results, consider the following:

- Does your plan for change align with the findings from the assessment effort?
- What improvements, enhancements, changes does your unit/office/department plan to make as a result of the findings?
- Who will be responsible for making the change?
- When will the change take place?

Step 8: Continuous Cycle - Repeat the process continuously focusing on various SLOs/AUOs.

The process of self-reflection and assessment must remain a continuous process in order to bring about meaningful change. Assessment enables each department to evaluate its current and future goals and then plan strategies to serve its students and clients. Continuous improvement builds on existing efforts to improve student performance and optimize student/client experiences. Thus, it is imperative to continue campus-wide and unit level discussions and revise assessment efforts as necessary to ensure that student and client needs are being met.

Institutional Effectiveness Glossary of Terms and Definitions

The following terms and definitions are used within the Southwestern Institutional Effectiveness Planning and Assessment Handbook:

Accreditation: The process by which a private, non-governmental body evaluates an educational institution or program of study and formally recognizes it as having met certain predetermined criteria or standards. The process involves initial and periodic self-study and evaluation by peers. Accreditation implies stimulation toward quality improvement beyond the minimum standards specified by the accrediting body. The essential purpose of the accreditation process is to provide a professional judgment as to the quality of the educational institution or program offered and to encourage continual improvement thereof. (www.nwccu.org)

Southwestern is regionally accredited by Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (NWCCU). Program and special accreditation agencies also exist (Culinary, Early Childhood Education, EMT to name a few).

Analysis of Results:

Annual Priority: The priorities identified by all of the college faculty and staff through the planning process. The things we plan to do; what faculty and staff expect to implement, complete, or achieve in a given year.

Assessment: The process for gathering evidence of student learning, discovering the degree to which courses, programs and administrative and educational support services accomplish intended outcomes, and probing the achievement of institutional goals and mission.

Assessment Method: Essentially two types of assessment – 1) Direct methods of assessment require students to produce work so that reviewers can assess how well students meet expectations and 2)

Indirect methods of assessment provide opportunities for students to reflect on their learning experiences and inform the reviewers their perceptions of their learning experience (Palomba & Banta, 1999).

Embedded Assessment: Refers to assessment that is included as part of the regular instruction or service. For example, specific questions can be embedded in numerous classes via quizzes, tests, and homework to provide summative and formative evaluation of departmental, program, or institutional outcomes. Embedded assessment is more easily obtained as it uses current assignments/tests for the assessment purposes and does not require much additional or extra work from the instructor.

Formative Assessment: Observations which allow one to determine the degree to which students know or are able to do a given learning task, and which identifies the part of the task that the student does not know or is unable to do. Outcomes suggest future steps for teaching and learning. This type of assessment is descriptive, focusing on the process.

Performance based Assessment: Applies with items or tasks that require students to apply knowledge, skills, and abilities in real world situations. Similar to direct assessment, performance based assessment illustrates skills of students through direct measurements of their behaviors on an instrument or assignment. Performance-based assessment might be a part of a formative assessment process, as an instructor might elect to grade a student's performance to determine a student's improvement in a skill (the purpose of formative assessment). An instructor might also use a performance based assessment as one aspect of the student's skill set in a cumulative assessment of grades, performance, etc. (summative assessment). Performance based assessment is an example of authentic assessment because instead of using a standardized test to measure a skill, the student is required to illustrate his/her knowledge. Finally, performance based assessment is contrasted to indirect assessment because indirect assessments ask students to reflect upon the learning process rather than to demonstrate).

Summative Assessment: Evaluation at the conclusion of a unit of instruction, used to determine or judge student skills and knowledge or the effectiveness of a plan or activity. Outcomes are the culmination of a teaching/learning process for a unit, subject, or year's study

Assessment Plan: An assessment plan is the combination of outcomes, means of assessment and criteria for success that have been identified for every unit/department on campus.

Budgeting: The process of developing a planned level of projected revenues and expenditures

CAAP: Collegiate Assessment of Academic Performance (CAAP). A nationally normed, standardized, academic test designed to measure general-education foundational skills that are typically attained in the first two years of college. The CAAP test scores provide one way to estimate the level of educational development.

CCSSE: Community College Survey of Student Engagement – a national survey administered every three years
